

Eurojersey debuts new seductive fabric with double feeling

The extensive offer from Sensitive Fabrics, an exclusive EUROJERSEY patent, stands out for its unique versatility, creativity and Made in Italy quality. Now it is joined by new Sensitive b.Feel, the seductive fabric with a double feeling.

And the twofold appeal, the difference between one side and the other, makes Sensitive b.Feel so innovative and advanced - the fabric skilfully interprets comfort and sensuality, merging its sophisticated essence. Sheer and elegant on one side, soft and embracing on the other, Sensitive b.Feel makes comfort sensual and sensuality is pleasant to wear.

Light yet strong, with a bright, silky, look, and as comfy as a second skin. Uniquely versatile with 31% LYCRA fibre, it creates wonderful sensations of elegant, sensual well-being, so that every seductive moment is also one of intense comfort. The silky look of the "b side" complements the sense of comfort and ease created by the "Feel side".

The ultraflat surface of Sensitive b.Feel makes it the most suitable fabric for raw cut hems, and its cling and shape retention properties means it is ideal for moulding. It is also the perfect solution for "piping".

Two more special features are its maximum colour yield and no curling/no pilling guarantee. It offers an exceptionally wide range of colours, with white, black, light cream, skin, platinum, ash, old rose, flame red, shadow, wild rose and ivory.
